Itinerary

Generally, Ozashiki sessions follow a specific sequence. Understanding this flow can help you enjoy the Ozashiki experience without feeling nervous. Please take a moment to read through this before heading to Ozashiki.

1 Conversation With the Geisha

While enjoying a Kaiseki-Ryori (traditional multi-course meal), guests indulge in drinks and conversation with the geisha. As the geisha pour drinks for the guests, it's polite to offer them drinks as well by saying "douzo." Geisha typically do not eat during the banquet.

2 Start

The session begins once everyone participating has gathered. There's a designated time for the presence of geisha in the Ozashiki. Arriving late means potentially reducing the time available to enjoy the company of the geisha, so it's important to be mindful of this.

3 Ozashiki Odori Dance

Once the dance begins, chatting and eating are temporarily paused. Indulge in the songs and dances performed by the geisha, tailored to the occasion.

4 Ozashiki-Asobi Games

Enjoy Ozashiki-Asobi with the geisha. Even if you're unfamiliar with the games, the geisha will kindly teach you how to play.

5 Closing

Although it may initially come to an end, if time feels insufficient, consider inviting the geisha to a cooperative establishment. There might be another Ozashiki reservation following yours, but if not, it's possible to extend the duration. (Additional charges will apply)

Important notes
Please allow us some time to respond. Requests for meals and beverages are negotiable (vegetarian, allergy-friendly, etc.). You cannot specify a Ryotei restaurant. The Rotei restaurant will be decided seven days prior to the date of use.
